Life on the Edge of Time

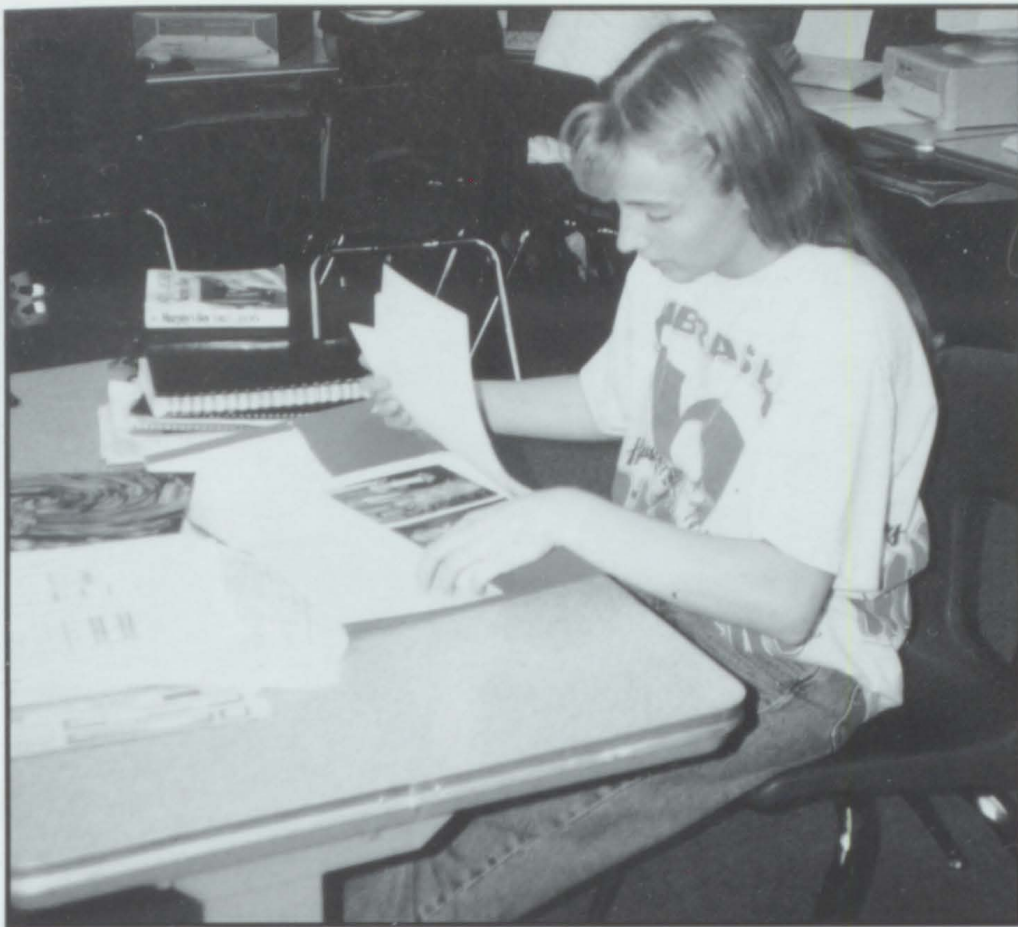

With the year 2000 around the corner, the yearbook staff felt that "Life on the Edge of Time" was an appropriate theme. As students prepare for Y2K, this book takes a look at how life is before the clock turns to 2000. Students during the 1998-99 school year have made their own history, and their years of high school and on the edge of time will not be forgotten. Life on the edge of time for CHS students involves many school activities, as these opening pages show.

Students face many decisions as they stand on the edge of a life on their own. To help make the decision of a career choice, students had the opportunity to hear about various occupations at Career Day which was sponsored by NHS. Presenters from 12 different fields talked to students from Springview and Colome. In the picture above, Stacy Pettit who works in the physical therapy department at the Gregory hospital shows Abby Petersek how electrical muscle stimulation works. Mary Burdette watches.

Drinking a pop and visiting with friends is the way that many students spend their lunch hours. As a result, Mr. Furness spends a lot of time refilling pop machines. In the picture above, Michael Bertram and Dustin Schrader help Furness. Money from the machines goes to the "C" Club.

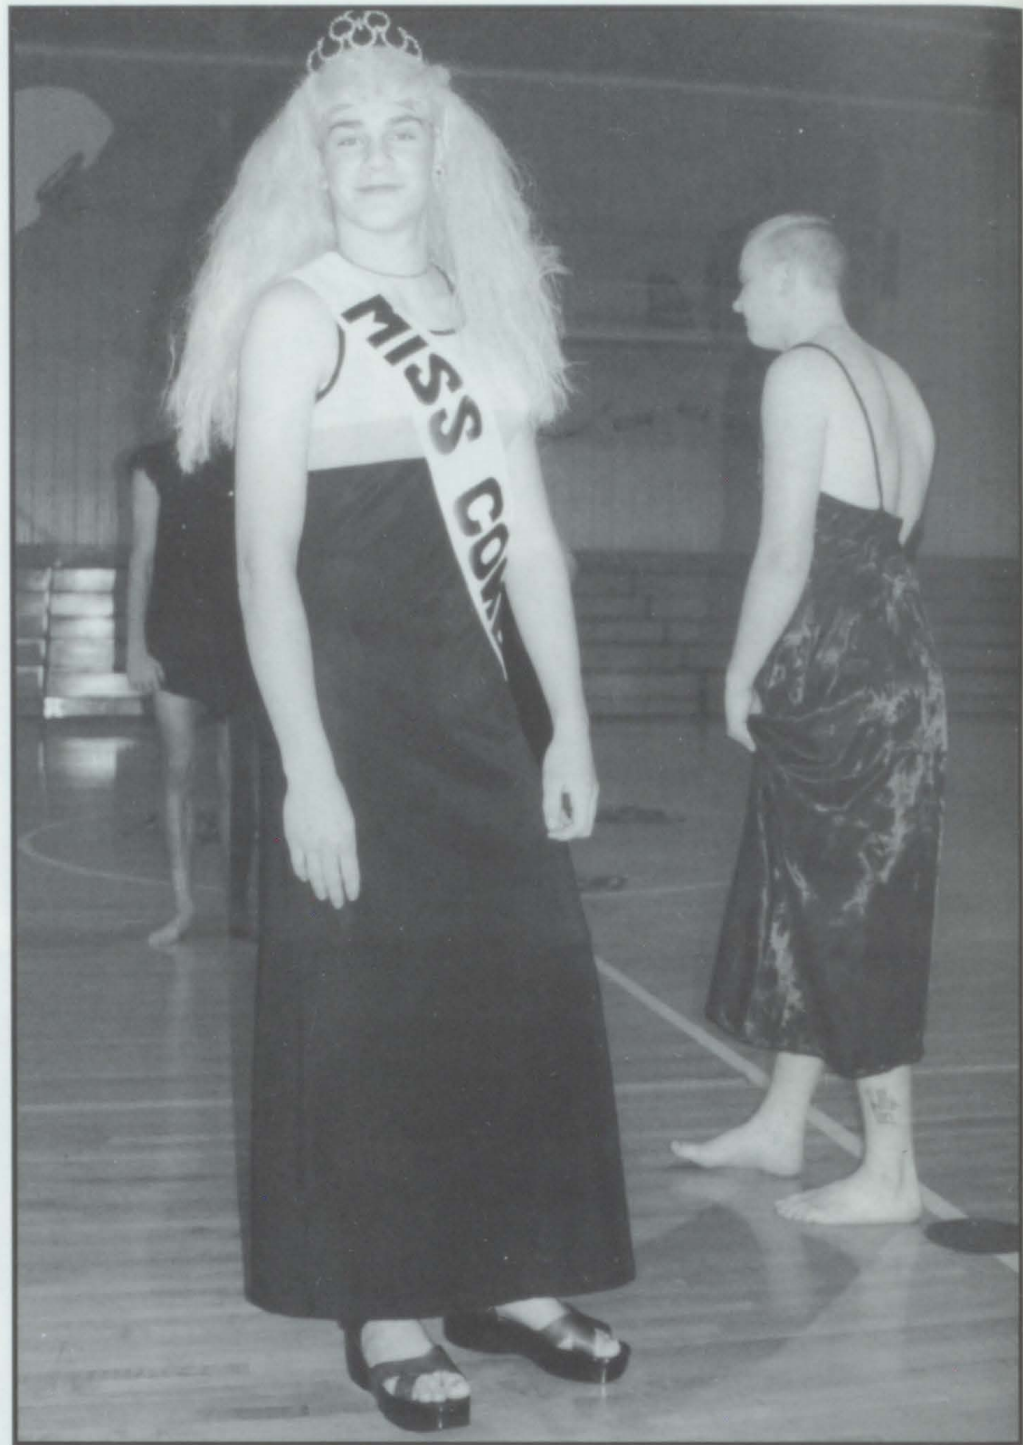

Many CHS students participate in band. Band members spend many evenings playing in pep band at basketball games. Here the saxophone section practices for one of the two concerts of the year.

Right: Nathan Hofeldt shows the look that won him first place in the Miss Cowboy Contest which was sponsored by NHS as part of Snow Week. Fellow contestant Dustin Duffy walks behind Nathan Hofeldt.

Below: Mackenzie Cox dances the night away at prom. Students spend a lot of time preparing for prom by looking for the right dress or tux.

Seniors take memories with them as they leave CHS

by Robert Burdette

Memories, everyone has them, whether good or bad. As the seniors left the halls of CHS, they took with them several memories.

Leah Armstrong will always remember the snow days, while Lance DeMers will never forget breaking the 25-game losing streak in the football season. John Hanson will remember that the class always found a way to have a good time. The constant arguments between Danny Soesbe and John Hanson is what Ryan Martin and Lance DeMers will remember. Cara Weiler and Kristen Geiszler will always remember the wasps chasing them around the school.

The whole class voted Mr. Greg Sherman as their favorite teacher during their high school careers. The seniors will remember that Sherman always found a way to have fun in class.

The seniors will carry these memories with them as they stand on the edge of time of a new life. Their futures vary, but most of the class has an idea of where they will be for the next few years.

Lance DeMers will attend Lake Area Tech for architectural drafting, while Robert Burdette is joining the Army to work on M1 Abram tanks. John Hanson also plans to begin a military career.

Cara Weiler plans to attend SDSU and major in political science, while Kristen Geiszler wants to become a paralegal.

Leah Armstrong will study architectural engineering at SDSU, and Terry Mayes plans to attend Dakota Wesleyan. Ryan Martin will enter the cooking program at Mitchell Tech.

Tim Cahoy will work on the farm. Monica Mansheim will be working and taking classes at home.

The "Krazy" Juniors

by Dustin Duffy

The juniors are not your ordinary, everyday juniors. They describe themselves as humorous and Krazy with a capital "k".

The juniors spend most of their weekends either driving around or just hanging out with their friends.

"I think this town needs a recreation center or just some place to hang out because all there is to do on weekends is go to Winner," said Julie Bentley. "If there was a rec center or a place to just hang out, then there would be very little crime in this town."

Most of the juniors are looking forward to their senior year already. "I can't wait for my senior year to get here and then graduate. I'm ready to get my future going," said Brian Woods.

The juniors say that the only thing that will change at the new millennium is the date, and everything else will be the same as it was before.

"I think people are hyping the year of 2000 up so much that when it comes, people will be tired of it, and it will just be another date on our calendars," said Colt Wallace.

From athletic to easy-going Sophomores don't miss a thing

by Monica Mansheim

From school activities to favorite movies, the class of 2001 used the school year to make their lives on the edge of time as interesting as possible.

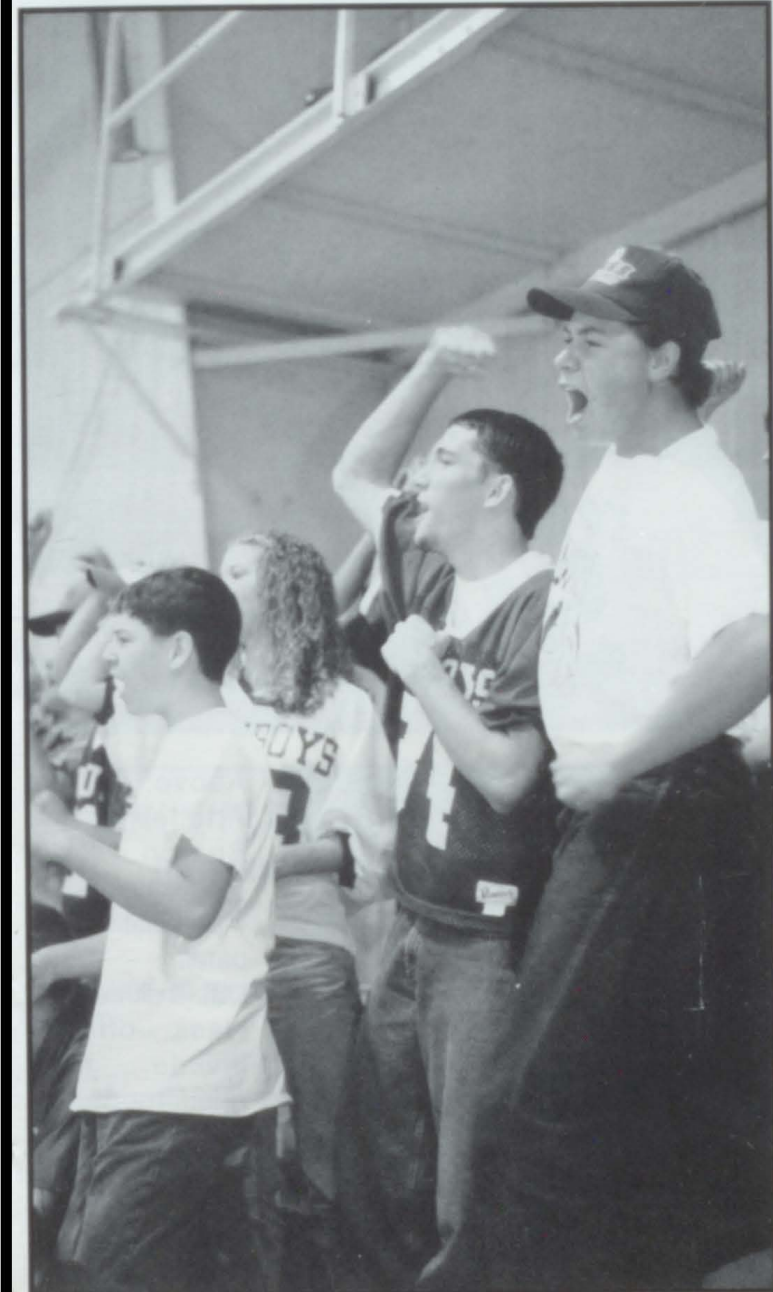

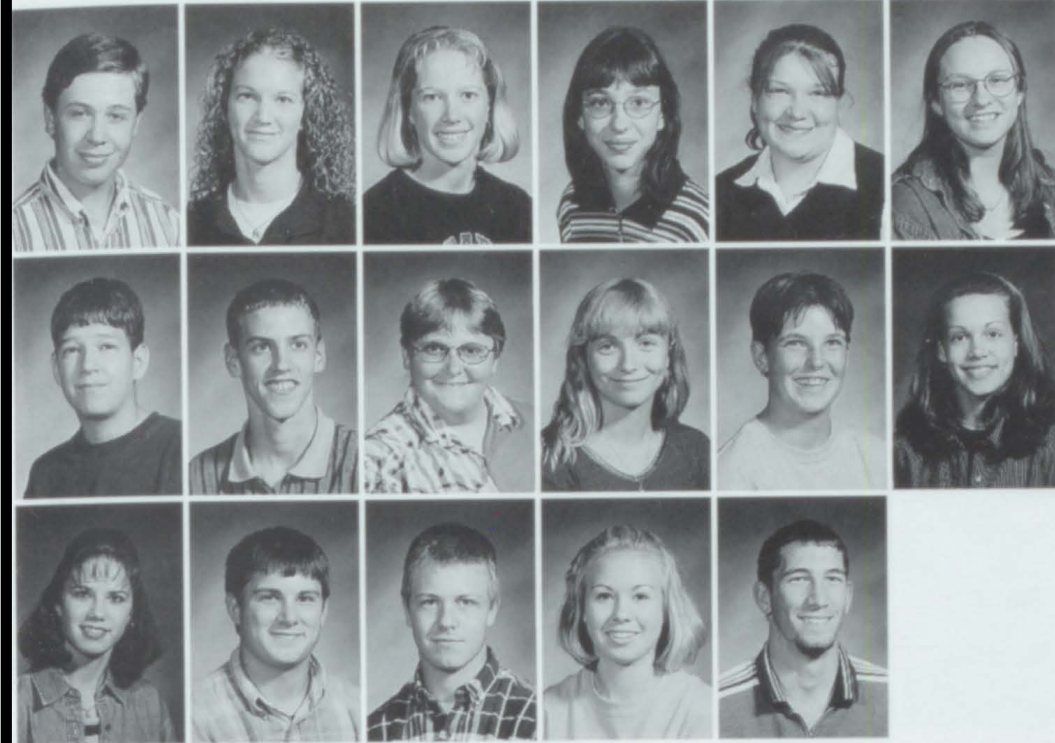

In the Homecoming parade the sophomores placed first. The class had the opportunity to order class rings and the majority of the class did.

The sophomores were asked to describe their class in one or two words. They agreed that their class is athletic and easy-going. They would not change a thing about their class.

In the song category, the sophomores like "I Don't Want to Miss a Thing" by Aerosmith, and they like the movies Hope Floats and Legends of the Fall.

The ones whom the class looks up to most in life would be their parents.

Freshmen finish first year of high school

by Cody Bertram

The freshmen were able to make it through their first year of high school without any problems.

They started off the year by being auctioned off for freshmen initiation. The seniors were able to bid on whom they wanted to initiate. The freshmen then had to do what the seniors said and wear apparel of the seniors' choice.

The freshmen answered a survey on what they missed about junior high and what they liked about high school. A majority said that they did not miss a thing about junior high. They like high school because of the classes, teachers, and more freedom.

They described their class as being fun, cool, and unique. The freshmen also said that they would like to see more sports programs for the school and air conditioning (especially for the English room).

This school year has been one year down and three to go for the Class of 2002.

Cowboys end losing streak and make playoffs

by Shaun VanOort

After a 25-game losing streak, the Cowboys earned a victory against the Avon Pirates on Sept. 11.

"We accomplished two of our three goals this year," said junior Glen Peters. "One was to break the losing streak that we have had for the last three seasons. We did against Avon. Second was to make the playoffs. We did that by beating Lake Andes. Third was to win a game in the playoffs. We didn't succeed on that one."

The Cowboys did meet Marion in the first round of the playoffs when they traveled to Marion on Oct. 19. This was the first time that the Cowboys had participated in the playoffs since 1992.

Although they lost to Marion by a score of 52-6, the team had set the goal to be a part of the playoffs. "At least we made it there," said junior Cody Bertram.

The Cowboys earned the right to participate in playoffs when they closed the regular season with a win over Lake Andes with a score of 21-14.

Before the season began, the team was preparing during the summer. Team members attended a camp in July where they focused on a new offense. Mr. Gale Hart, Mr. Alan Armstrong, Mr. Ron Bertram, and Mr. Rod Garrison ran the camp which was held at the Colome field.

"The camp gave us a preview of a game," said junior Dustin Duffy.

Awards for the season went to Tim Cahoy for Most Valuable Lineman and Michael Sherman for Most Valuable Back.

Cowgirls play close games

by Dan Soesbe

"The Cowgirls had a tough season with a lot of close games, but they never gave up," said Coach Koth who also commented that this was the youngest team that he has coach in 14 years.

The Cowgirls closed the season with a record of 6-15. Their opponents outscored them by only 2.3 points per game this year. The Cowgirls felt that Burke and Gregory were two of their toughest opponents. The Cowgirls came so close to victory the first time that they played Burke, so it was a real disappointment to lose to them in the Districts. "Gregory was one of the Cowgirls' toughest opponents because they were big, good shooters and they handled our press," said Koth.

"The Cowgirls never gave up and that is why our games were as close as they were," said senior Leah Armstrong. "I had more fun playing with this team than I did with any other team. They had more hustle and ability than past teams."

During the course of the season, Mr. Koth stayed with the same starters but added a press. The Cowgirls started shooting better free throw percentages and through their tough losses they learned more about the game of basketball that will help them the next two to three years. "Basketball teaches you about life," said Coach Koth. "It teaches you how to win with pride and how to lose with dignity."

One of the leaders of the team was sophomore Erin Bolton who led the team in assists with 71. Sophomore Andrea Atteberry had the best free throw percentage with 65.2 and the most steals with 50. Atteberry had 11 of those steal against Bonesteel-Fairfax on Oct. 10. Senior Leah Armstrong led the team with the most points, 210. Sophomore Abby Petersek led the team in rebounds with 160, and she also made Southern Plains All Conference.

"This year everybody got along and no one seemed to care who scored the points and who had the rebounds," said Coach Koth. "They all led the team at different times during the season."

Many of the team members will remember spending their noon hours shooting free throws in the gym - at the request of Coach Koth.

Armstrong has another good memory. "Mr. Koth always had a saying for everything," she said. "No matter how many games we lost he never gave up on us."

Coach Koth commented that he had only ten high school girls out for basketball this year. This is the smallest number in Koth's 14 years of coaching. The small numbers cut into the number of "B" team players. Mrs. Beth Leber coached the "B" team this year. They ended with a 7-9 record

Boys basketball team ends season with 5-14 record

by Cody Bertram

The Cowboy basketball team gained one more win than they had last year ending the season with a 5-14 record.

They won their first game of the season over Lake Andes. "It was a great way to start out the season," said Michael Sherman. Their other four wins came against Springview, Marty, Kimball, and Dakota Christian.

"We improved stat wise from last year," said Coach Furness. "We had a lot more close games, too. Looking to next year we will have a lot of experience coming back."

Blakke Bertram earned All-Conference honors for the South Central Conference. "It was great to be recognized by all the coaches in the conference," said Bertram on his selection.

The Cowboys ended their season with a loss to the Avon Pirates in District play in Lake Andes.

The following awards went to these players:

FT%: Michael Sherman - 70%

Mr. Defense: Michael Sherman

Mr. Hustle: Tanner Sealey

Mr. Rebounder: Colt Wallace - 199 total, 6.6 RPG

Most Improved: Glen Peters

Most Promising Freshman: Jordan Graesser

Co-Most Valuable Players - Blakke Bertram & Colt Wallace

Cowgirls gain experience

By Monica Manshiem

The Cowgirls varsity team ended the 98-99 season with a 5-20 record.

"I was disappointed that we didn't win more games; however, I do feel that we improved throughout the season," said senior Leah Armstrong.

This year Mrs. Teresa Yeaman took over Mr. Gale Hart's position as head coach, and Mrs. Korey Bertram became the assistant coach for the Cowgirls.

"Throughout the season, I was very impressed at how hard the Cowgirls worked to improve their skills," said Coach Yeaman.

"The season was a lot of fun. The team got along well on and off the court. We didn't win many games, but we improved as the season went along. We played right along with the other teams," said senior Kristen Geiszler. "Having four sophomores starting meant a young team. They did well and gained experience that will help them in the next few years."

For total points of the entire varsity season, Katie Schwartz led with 136 points. Other players with points included Andrea Atteberry, 114 points; Kristen Geiszler, 103 points; Leah Armstrong, 80 points; Abby Petersek, 51 points; Abby Turnquist, 29 points; Lindsay Zeigler, 18 points; Dana O'Bryan, 17 points; Kara Atteberry, 11 points; Erin Bolton, 8 points; and Sharon Klein, 1 point. The team had 578 points for the entire season.

In other statistics for the varsity, the girls had 79 percent on their serves, 68 percent on spiking, and 93 percent on setting. The JV Cowgirls ended their season with a record of 4-8.

The seniors on the 1998-99 team include Leah Armstrong (6), Kristen Geiszler (9), and Monica Manshiem (8).

The JV team includes in front Kristy Zink, Teressa Geiszler, and Mackenzie Cox. In back are JV Coach Korey Bertram, Dallas DeMers, Jenny Lackey, Desi Foster, Polly Hart, and manager Ashley DeMers.

Graesser and Petersek break school records during track season

Sophomores Abby Petersek and Glenn Graesser both broke school records and topped the list of accomplishments of tracksters during the 1999 season.

At the State "B" track meet in Sioux Falls on May 29, Graesser ran his best time of 4:38.59 in the 1600 meter run and placed fourth.

Petersek jumped 32' 2 1/4" in the triple jump at the Great Plains Conference in Bonesteel on April 27.

Making it to the State meet is always a goal of the track team, and this year Colome had several tracksters competing. The medley relay team of Vobr, Dimit, C. Bertram, and Graesser placed six with a time of 3:53.72. The 3200 relay team (C. Bertram, Sherman, Peters, and Graesser) and the 1600 meter relay team (C. Bertram, Vobr, Sherman, and Graesser) also ran at State.

For the girls team at the State level, Katie Schwartz placed seventh in the 300 hurdles with a time of :49.74. Leah Armstrong participated in the high jump, and Petersek, Schwartz, A. Atteberry, and K. Atteberry ran the 800 relay.

Head Coach Alan Armstrong and Assistant Coach Geof Furness accompanied the team to ten meets during the season. Dana O'Bryan and Kim Kahler were student managers for the boys and girls teams.

The girls team consisted of Leah Armstrong, Andrea Atteberry, Abby Petersek, Katie Schwartz, Abby Turnquist, Kara Atteberry, Sharon Klein, Teressa Geiszler, and Kristy Zink.

Awards for the season went to Andrea Atteberry, MVP Running Events; Abby Petersek, MVP Field Events; Glenn Graesser, MVP Running Events; and Cody Bertram, MVP Field Events. Alan Klein and Shawn Klein made the 100 Mile Club.

The 1998 Track season proved to have a variety of weather - from rain to snow to needing your sunscreen. Dana O'Bryan, Matt O'Bryan and Alan Klein show their enjoyment over the beautiful weather at the South Central Conference Meet in Bonesteel.

"We are all behind you," states the homecoming sign as John Hanson, number 40, breaks through. Football cheerleaders Kim Kahler, Katie Schwartz, Erin Bolton, and Abby Petersek cheer the players on. The cheerleaders made the sign for the homecoming game against Tripp-Delmont.

Cheerleaders show spirit

by Cody Bertram

The Colome Cheerleaders had a full year of activities. The girls planned several pep rallies and made signs for the gym to boost school spirit. They also raised money with a car wash on field day. "I enjoyed boys basketball cheerleading this year because we did many fun things," said Abby Turnquist.

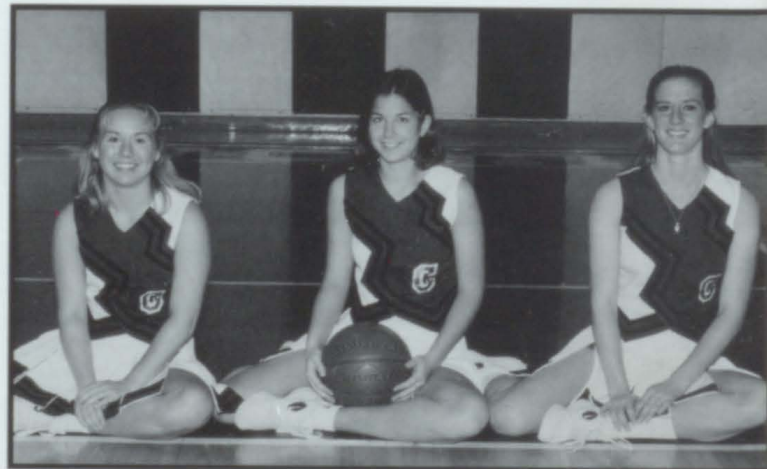

The football cheerleaders consisted of Abby Turnquist, Abby Petersek, Katie Schwartz, Kristen Geiszler, Kim Kahler, Erin Bolton, and Leah Armstrong. The boys basketball team had only three cheerleaders: Kristen Geiszler, Leah Armstrong, and Abby Turnquist. Mrs. Gail Larson and Mrs. Holly Cahoy were the cheerleading advisors.

"The cheerleaders were able to buy new uniforms that were badly needed," said Mrs. Larson. "They purchased them with money from bake sales last year."

The Pep Club had several bake sales this basketball season to help raise money. The Pep Club also decorated lockers and the bus during district tournaments.

Rodeo team kicks off season with two events

CHS rodeo team kicked off the '99 season with the annual Triple Crown Rodeo in Kadoka, White River, and Burke. The team's four members - Erin Bolton, Tanner Sealey, JayTee Sealey, and Justin Steinke - participated in the three-day event.

In Kadoka on Friday, April 30, Tanner Sealey placed second in steer wrestling. On Saturday, May 1, Erin Bolton won second in breakaway roping and fourth in goat tying. T. Sealey again placed second in the steer wrestling on the final day, May 2, in Burke.

The team then traveled to the Onida-Highmore rodeos on May 8 and 9. At Highmore Bolton placed third in breakaway roping with a time of 12.22 seconds and third in goat tying with a run of 10.89 seconds.

Tradition fills Homecoming '98

Tradition filled Homecoming '98 as students participated in the annual events ranging from Slave Day to Coronation to football and girls basketball games.

The daily events for the week of Sept. 21-26 included Crazy Hair Day on Monday, PJ Day on Tuesday, Slave, Snarf, Hat/Shade Day on Wednesday, Sports Star Day on Thursday, and the traditional Green and White Day on Friday. Students and alumni gathered for Coronation and Roll Call on Thursday evening. Lance DeMers and Leah Armstrong received Cowboy and Cowgirl, while senior Robert Burdette presided over the Roll Call.

On Friday morning the NHS sponsored the Cowboy Olympics. Classes participated in contests like a sunflower spitting contest and roping contest. Many commented that they especially enjoyed digging for eggs that had been hidden in a pile of straw. The cheerleaders led the classes in cheers during the spirit contest which the seniors won.

At the conclusion of the Cowboy Olympics, students reported to their float building locations and worked on their parade entries. The sophomore class won the high school division of the parade with their float featuring Tony the Tiger. The juniors took second place, while the freshmen won third place.

The fourth graders won the 4-8 division, with the fifth and sixth grades winning second and third places, respectively. The first graders won the K-3 division. The second graders took second, followed by the third graders with third place.

The Student Council selected long-time Colome residents and business owners Ben and Marge Vavra as parade marshals.

The Cowboys faced the Tripp-Delmont Wildcats in the football game on Friday night and lost with a score of 50-19. The Cowgirls hosted the Burke Lady Bulldogs on Saturday night and lost by a score of 35-42.

Well 'I'll Be' - the last prom of the century

by Dustin Duffy

The 1999 Prom had many surprises from droopy streamers because of shampooed carpets to the crowning of the king and queen to 45 couples in attendance.

The evening began with the Junior-Senior Banquet. The servers were decked out in genie costumes. Sophomores who served the meal included Bennet Kelly, Glenn Graesser, Matt Vobr, Derrick Geiszler, Abby Petersek, Abby Turnquist, Katie Schwartz, and Andrea Atteberry. The dinner consisted of steaks and prepared salads by the mothers.

The theme of the 1999 prom was "I'll Be" from the song by Edwin Mckain. The decorations ranged from an artificial water fountain to balloon towers. The walls were decorated with stars. All 45 couples walked down red carpet and cobble stone walkways.

"The juniors did an excellent job decorating for prom. It looked like they put a lot of time and effort into it. It was one of the nicest proms I've ever been to," said senior Tim Cahoy.

The music ranged from "Thunderstruck" by AC/DC to "Strawberry Wine" by Deana Carter. The night was filled with dedications and announcements. The D.J. was Dakota Entertainment of Sioux Falls.

"The D.J. was a great one, and I had a lot of fun cutting a rug to his tunes," said junior Saun VanOort. "He was a very nice guy and fitted in with the kids very well."

After the dance everyone migrated to the gym to start the after prom party. The students and visitors took part in events that ranged from sumo wrestling to an airband contest, with arm wrestling in the middle.

"I had a lot of fun sumo wrestling and cart racing. The airband contest was pretty cool too," said junior T.J. Weickum.

12 seniors finish high school careers

Finding what you enjoy and pursuing it are some pieces of advice that Senator Bob Benson shared with 12 CHS students as they graduated on May 15.

Senator Benson felt a connection to the students since Cara Weiler served as a page while the Senate was in session and his niece Heather Haley graduated from eighth grade during the ceremony.

Students who also spoke at graduation were Leah Armstrong, Cara Weiler, and Kristen Geiszler.

The seniors chose the following motto: "Yesterday is history. Tomorrow a mystery. Today is a gift. That is why it's called the present." They selected a white rose tipped in black as the class flower which each graduate gave to their parents at the conclusion of graduation. Black and white served as the class colors.

As a special moment before graduation, a slide show with pictures from the previous year was shown before the seniors walked down the aisle.

NHS fills year with activities

by Robert Burdette

The National Honor Society had one of its busiest years since it was brought back into CHS. The organization sponsored at least one event every month, such as Cowboy Olympics, 3D Month, and Snow Week.

During Homecoming, NHS sponsored the Cowboy Olympics with several contests like a stick horse barrel race, pie eating contest, and a sunflower spitting contest.

During the month of November, NHS organized a canned food drive with a competition between 7-12 classes to see who could bring the most cans of food. The sophomores won and received juice and rolls.

In December the members sponsored a mitten tree. Students were encouraged to bring gloves and hats and hang them on a tree in the study hall. The items were then donated to the local homeless shelter.

December was 3D Month (Drunk Driving and Drugs). Vince and Larry, the crash test dummies, made an appearance to tell students about the dangers of drinking and driving. NHS members tied red ribbons on the antennas of students' cars.

In January, they sponsored Snow Week. First event for the week was the crowning of the Snow Queen and King. The honors went to Michael Sherman and Cara Weiler. Then there was the Miss Cowboy contest which freshman Nathan Hofeldt won. The main event of the week was the Career Fair which students from Springview, NE, also attended. Some of the featured careers included the military, a meteorologist, a zoologist, and law enforcement.

In February the members made Valentines for people in the Nursing Home. In March they had a change for wishes, and in May they sponsored Teacher Appreciation Week.

Above: Tyler Anneman, a zoologist and the head of the education department at the Sioux Falls Great Plains Zoo, holds up a boa constrictor snake while he explains his job to students during the career fair. Mr. Anneman also brought a live turtle.

NHS members include advisor Mrs. Susen Schirmer, Leah Armstrong, Terry Mayes, and Robert Burdette. In the middle row are Ann Krumpus, Brittany DeMers, Katie Schwartz, Andrea Atteberry, Abby Turnquist, and Glenn Graesser. In back are Matt O'Bryan, Michael Sherman, Alan Klein, Colt Wallace, and Justin Steinke. In May they initiated the following new members: Cara Weiler, Tanner Sealey, Derrick Geiszler, Abby Petersek, Matt Vobr, Kara Atteberry, Charleen Bruns, Dallas DeMers, Brian Giedd, Sharon Klein, Jennifer Lackey, Dana O'Bryan, and Craig Sealey.

Schwartz competes at State

by Dan Soesbe

Katie Schwartz traveled to Sioux Falls on Dec. 4 to compete in the state contest in Oral Interp.

"Going up there was fun, and it prepared me for later years," said Schwartz. "It was fun to watch everyone perform. I learned what points I could be stronger at." For example, the judges felt that Schwartz's piece could have been more difficult for her talents.

Schwartz's serious prose piece focused on a girl who fell in love with a guy. She later discovered what a mean person he was. She also learned how important her relationship with her mother was.

There were 15 contestants in Schwartz's prose section. Schwartz said she did her best performance at State. She was nervous at first, but she put her guts into it and gave it her all.

"I didn't expect to make it to State in prose, but I thought Erin (Bolton) and I would have made it in our duet," said Schwartz.

Schwartz said she would recommend Oral Interp to other students because it is a good encounter, and everyone should have the chance to experience it. Schwartz said her favorite part of oral interp is seeing everyone's abilities and finding out her own.

Oral Interp competes at several levels

by Dustin Duffy

Oral Interp had 16 members this year and competed in three regular contests, a local contest, a district contest, a regional contest, and a state contest.

"Our Oral Interp squad has really accelerated in the past three years. We had four events advance to regions and one to state," said Oral Interp Coach Susen Schirmer. "Three years ago Colome students didn't even know what Oral Interp was."

The first contest was held in Winner and all of the members took part in this contest. The Oral Interp team hosted their own local contest to see who moved on to Districts. Leah Armstrong, Cara Weiler, Matt O'Bryan, Michael Sherman, Alan Klein, Ann Krumpus, Erin Bolton, Katie Schwartz, Andrea Atteberry, and Dana O'Bryan all went to District competition in Gregory. The Readers Theater earned first, along with the "Barefoot in the Park" duet of Katie Schwartz and Erin Bolton. Andrea Atteberry also earned first place with her humorous selection. Katie Schwartz advanced in the prose division.

After Districts, Armstrong, Weiler, M. O'Bryan, Sherman, Klein, Bolton, Schwartz, and Atteberry competed at Regions that took place in Pierre.

At Regions, the Readers Theater placed fourth, and the duet of Schwartz and Bolton placed a close third qualifying them as alternates for State. Atteberry tied for fourth place, and Schwartz placed third and qualified for State competition in Sioux Falls.

Father of the Bride takes the stage at CHS

by Dustin Duffy

The play for 1999 was Father of the Bride, a play in three acts. Mrs. Susen Schirmer was the director.

The play was held March 18, 19, and 20 with a dinner theater on Saturday night at the Colome Legion. Students watched the play on Friday afternoon.

There were a total of 25 actors, ranging from 7-12 grades. The set crew spent January and February rebuilding the set from last year's play.

The play had some last-minute character changes when senior Terry Mayes stepped into the role of Mr. Banks because Lance DeMers became ill during the last week of the play.

Other main actors were Cara Weiler as Mrs. Banks, Leah Armstrong as Kay Banks, Alan Klein as Ben Banks, and Michael Sherman as Buckley Dunstan.

The play begins when a young man visits the home of Mr. Banks. When his daughter announces her engagement, Mr. Banks realizes that this young man is to become his son-in-law. The family is happy, except Mr. Banks.

The couple only wants a little wedding, but the guest list just keeps growing as family members add names of friends to the list. At one point in the play, the couple calls the wedding off, but eventually the wedding turns out to be a beautiful and happy day.

Student council hosts activities

by Shaun VanOort

This year's student council president was Leah Armstrong who was unopposed in the election. Principal Alan Armstrong was the advisor.

The year began with planning the Homecoming week. The council planned the daily activities for the week and helped sponsor the Homecoming dance that the juniors hosted.

At Christmas, the council provided movies to watch. Students could also play class volleyball.

This year's After Prom Party was sponsored by the Student Council. Seniors all received gifts ranging from coolers to fans.

This year's Student Council members include in front Kara Atteberry, Andrea Atteberry, Tim Cahoy, Michael Sherman, and Mr. Alan Armstrong (advisor). In the back row are Brian Giedd, Erin Bolton, Shaun VanOort, Cara Weiler, and Leah Armstrong.

Students produce yearbook and Lariat

by Robert Burdette

"Leads. We need better leads." was a common saying by Mrs. Rohde this year in the fourth hour journalism class.

Besides writing stories for the Lariat in the journalism class, the students learned how to write a large assortment of stories, including sports, editorials, humor, and other types of writings that are in a newspaper. The students also made a news broadcast and commercials.

Journalism class students included Robert Burdette, Dan Soesbe, Monica Mansheim, Cody Bertram, Dustin Duffy, and Shaun Van Oort.

Desktop Publishing students created the Lariat and yearbook. They took the stories written by the journalism students and edited them. Then they cropped the pictures and produced the pages for the newspaper and yearbook.

Band performs during school year

The CHS Band began the year with marching season as they performed in the Labor Day Parade in Winner. They also marched in the Colome and Gregory homecoming parades.

When marching season wrapped up, the students began working on songs for the Veteran's Day program on Nov. 11. They performed "Stars and Stripes Forever" and "God Bless the U.S.A."

Also in November, Alan Klein, Michael Sherman, Katie Schwartz, and Ann Krumpus participated in Augie Band Festival in Sioux Falls on Nov. 6 and 7. There were four bands: Augie, Gold Festival Band, the Honor Festival Band, and the Blue Festival Band. Sherman was one of six percussionists chosen for the Honor Band. The other Colome students participated in the Blue Band.

On Dec. 3, the band played four songs for the Christmas concert: "Stille Nacht," "Santa Holiday," "Carol of the Drum," and "Trepak."

On Feb. 17, band students traveled to Kimball for the annual solo and ensemble contest. Kara Atteberry and Abby Turnquist received a I (Superior) for their woodwind duet. Atteberry also received a I on her clarinet solo.

The entire band participated in a large group contest in Kimball on March 31. The band performed three pieces and received a II for excellent rating. "The band worked very hard and did very well," said Ms. Ginger Lodmell, director. "We played three difficult pieces."

On May 3, the band played two of their contest pieces, "That Thing You Do," and "Star Wars/Raiders March."

The band finished the year by performing at graduation on May 15.

Andrea Atteberry and Tyler Croston march in the band during the Homecoming Parade. The CHS band marched in both the Colome Homecoming Parade and in the Winner Labor Day parade.

Lodmell directs chorus

by Monica Mansheim

Things changed in CHS chorus this year as Ms. Ginger Lodmell took over the direction of the chorus. Lodmell also directs the high school, junior high, and fifth and sixth grade bands.

This year the chorus had 18 members and performed a variety of songs including "One Moment In Time" to "Music of the Night" from Phantom of the Opera.

The CHS chorus also had an All-State quartet this year. Matt O'Bryan, Casey Harter, Mackenzie Cox, and Amy Duley traveled to Aberdeen in November.

"It was amazing how well they sang. I will never forget it," said All-Stater sophomore Amy Duley.

They also took 11 students and had 4 solos, one duet, and a madrigal to contest in Lake Andes in February.

"The students worked very hard and did very well," said Ginger Lodmell.

Student librarians help in library

by Shaun VanOort

This year the number of librarians was low. The student librarians help in the high school library, while Mrs. Schwartz takes care of the high school and elementary libraries.

"Even though they are small in number, they did a great job," said Mrs. Tina Schwartz.

Students can sit in the library and look for information on one of the two computers. They can also have help looking for a book by one of the librarians. The librarians have different hours on different days. They work during their study halls.

Student librarian Shaun VanOort checks out a book to a student during second hour study hall.
